

~ DRESS CODE ~

- Having a clean overall look makes the class feel better, be less distracted, and seem to work harder
- Hair pulled out of the face (bangs are alright unless they are being a distraction) is required. It must be contained in a bun, french twist, or braid (so long as it isn't interfering with their dancing). Short hair should be clipped back out of the face and eyes.

GIRLS

~ BALLET CLASS ~

Required to have available: a black leotard without skirt, Classical Pink (bright) capezio 9 or 9C tights or Body Wrappers style A45 in Ballet Pink, and pink leather ballet shoes.

Class: any leotard, pink tights, and pink leather ballet shoes.

Hair:

Should be away from the face with clips and long hair should be contained as to not get in the dancers face as they are turning or be distracting to another dancer if they are close. A bun is preferred and is good practice for performance.

Tights:

Body Wrappers A45 (Ballet Pink) Capezio brand (Classical Pink), style 9 or 9C (child) are required for the recital. They are $13.00-$20.00 depending on the brand and can be worn just for the recital and reused the following year for the classroom or saved for the performance again. We make several bulk orders throughout the year.

Shoes:

Pink LEATHER (not the bedroom slipper type) ballet shoes are required, you can get them from Standing Ovation (next to Chuck E. Cheese) and they will professionally fit them for you. I recommend this place if your child has a wide, thick, or narrow foot; as they have various widths. You can also get leather shoes at Payless, but they only come in 1 width and are actually more expensive than Standing Ovation! I don't recommend the style from Target, Walmart, and various other super stores.

~ MODERN ~

Dancers in this class may wear black tights, black leggings, or boy shorts with their leotard. There are no shoes since Modern is danced in bare feet.

~ WORSHIP, TEEN/ADULT, and STRETCH ~

Dancers/students in these classes may wear yoga or sweatpants. A leotard is not required. We generally wear the pink leather ballet shoe or go barefoot depending on location (for 'performance')
